

Chinese Drama Society

Since the Chinese Drama Society was founded, we have always aimed at promoting the art of drama to our fellow schoolmates, through performances and regular workshops from time to time. This year, despite the pandemic, we still strive to achieve this aim.

Last year, the annual Hong Kong School Drama Festival was cancelled, but we still did not get rid of the preparation work. Instead, it is integrated into our performance this year. For example, the script is greatly improvised throughout these two years.

Although the Drama Festival will be held online, we are still looking forward to taking part in it. We will still do our best to improve and provide entertainment, so that our efforts pay off. Not only is this a great chance to practise, we can also perform in front of our fellow schoolmates. Please stay tuned for our performances in the future!
